- That the employee has the duty to obtain treatment for work-related injuries and illnesses from one or more of the designated health care providers for 90 days from the date of the first visit to a designated provider.
- That the employee has the right to have all reasonable medical supplies and treatment related to the injury paid for by the employer as long as the treatment is obtained from a designated provider during the 90-day period.
- That the employee has the right, during this 90-day period, to switch from one health care provider on the list to another provider on the list, and that all the treatment shall be paid for by the employer.
- That the employee has the right to seek treatment from a referral provider if the employee is referred to him by a designated provider, and the employer shall pay for the treatment rendered by the referral provider.
- That the employee has the right to seek emergency medical treatment from any provider, but that subsequent non-emergency treatment shall be by a designated provider for the remainder of the 90-day period.
- That the employee has the right to seek treatment or medical consultation from a non-designated provider during the 90-day period, but that these services shall be at the employee's expense for the applicable 90 days.
- That the employee has the right to seek treatment from any health care provider after the 90-day period has ended, and the treatment shall be paid for by the employer, if it is reasonable and necessary.
- That the employee has the duty to notify the employer of treatment by a non-designated provider within five (5) days of the first visit to that provider. The employer may not be required to pay for treatment rendered by a non-designated provider prior to receiving this notification. However, the employer shall pay for these services once notified, unless the treatment is found to be unreasonable by a URO, under Subchapter C.
